

Vocational training

The future belongs to people who are young, motivated and committed. At the hostettler group, this is no different.

The success of the hostettler group is in no small part thanks to highly-motivated employees who feel at home with us. Are you looking for an apprenticeship place? Even as an apprentice, you'll soon become part of the team with us. And we are convinced that you will learn and experience a great deal. Are you interested in carrying out basic vocational training or an apprenticeship in a hostettler group company?

With us, you spend your apprenticeship in a place where things happen. That is to say, at the proverbial front of various companies. You will work with cool products and modern devices and, in doing so, familiarise yourself with new methods and systems.

You will be mentored in all areas of the apprenticeship by competent and experienced vocational trainers. What's more, an apprenticeship with the hostettler group offers you optimal prospects for your successful professional future. We look forward to hearing from you!
